3 years Advanced Exchange – Scope of Service

1. The service: Lenovo will assist Customer to resolve any technical issue remotely. Lenovo will exchange the failed product with a permanent replacement unit if the technical issue cannot be resolved remotely.

2. Type of replacement unit: The replacement unit will be a new or refurbished product unit. A refurbished product unit will be the same or a more recent model, free of major cosmetic defects and equivalent to new in performance, offering functionality at least equivalent to that of the replaced product.

3. Shipping: The replacement unit will be shipped to your location free of freight charges, during the next business day* for which you have a coverage window. The replaced product becomes the property of Lenovo and will be collected by Lenovo at your location.

4. Hours of coverage: Next Business Day*. The coverage window specifies the coverage hours during which your call may be logged and service is delivered. The following coverage windows are available for telephone support: •Standard: Service is available within the business hours in local time, Monday through Friday, excluding public holidays.

A Call must be received before the local cut off time during the contracted coverage window to activate an exchange service with next-business-day delivery. The replacement unit will be delivered during the contracted coverage window.
